To All Our Trusted Friends and Partners in Construction:

Earlier this week, we had a roof collapse at our Durham, NC location due to apparent snow load. No one was in the building at the time and no injuries occurred as a result. It is for that we are thankful, and the building is currently closed.

As of the day after the incident, we have repurposed, reallocated and positioned all personnel and equipment in the RDU market to adjust and respond to this event. We are as able and focused to service all our customers as we always have.

We are examining ways to address the walk-in traffic for that specific location; more details on that to follow. It is due to everyone reading this notice that we have had such great success in Durham. Thank you for your continued support and understanding as we navigate to a solution.

We wish you all a happy and joyous holiday season and look forward to continuing to be your primary source for walls and ceiling products!

Warm Regards,

John Kindt and David Ritchie
